

List of 19th-Century Research Resources in the Washington, D.C. Area

Washington, D.C. and its neighbors, Maryland and Virginia, are rich resources for 19th century collections.

This list focuses on museums, libraries, archives, historic homes, gardens, and other such collections of books, materials, and artifacts. Organizations are sorted by region (Washington, D.C., Maryland, Virginia) and listed alphabetically.

Historical sites, parks, monuments, and architecture have not been included, but should be noted as part of the overall richness of the area's 19th century history. Additionally, many government agencies have collections, archives, exhibit spaces, and libraries that may not be listed here.

Undoubtedly, some 19th century collections may have been missed. Should you wish to respond to or add to the list, please email cncsinternational@gmail.com.

This list was generated in spring 2026 by Northern Virginia Community College interns, A. Raymer, J. Kaminski, and W. Brown under the supervision of Smithsonian Institution curator, S. Perich.
